Subject: Sharing my opinion of the Microsoft anti-trust case

Dear Madams and Sirs,

I am not a resident of many of your states (I reside in California) but I feel compelled to share my opinion with you.

I'm writing you to let you know of my absolute dissatisfaction and displeasure with the current results and reports coming from the Federal Government's Microsoft anti-trust case.

I've been following this case in the news for many years and feel as though I am well-informed, not just the casual observer, but I also know that I do not know every single detail of the case.

I feel that Microsoft is being given a light slap on the wrist for the actions they have indulged in. It is outrageous that they are "reaching a settlement" and not being handed very strong punishment!

Remember that this is a company that has over 90% of the desktop operating systems market and without question used that advantage in ways which were illegal. I would be willing to bet that you are reading this email on a PC using one form or another of Microsoft Windows.

I happen to be writing you on a Macintosh.

Thank you for your time and for your efforts in the fight against the anti-trust operations of Microsoft.

Best of luck in your efforts.

Regards,

Bert
